Abstract: Reveals the orientation of educational values to the social and personal factor. It is desirable that social values, including educational values, serve to form a person, increase his value, ensure the recognition of the individual factor by pedagogues as the leading subject of educational processes, help to form free and independent thinking, as well as the skills of social activity.

Key words: Education, values, social factor, orientation, characteristic, social values, educational values, dignity, pedagogue, educational processes, subject, provision, independent thinking.

The national consciousness, national pride, national pride and spiritual world of our people are getting richer day by day. This is the moral basis of our independent state. So, to the extent that spirituality was formed, it served the development. National renaissance, national pride, restoration of national feeling is a natural and legal process inextricably linked with national development.

The reforms carried out in our society can be successfully implemented only when our national values, customs and traditions are revived and further developed, because only a person who is morally sound, enlightened, spiritually strong, and has the ability to think in a new way can walk the path of independence and development with honor. Therefore, studying the cultural heritage and high spiritual values of our people in depth and comprehensively, inculcating them in the mind of every person living in our Republic, especially raising the young generation to be spiritually mature and selfless people is one of the urgent problems.

It reveals the orientation of educational values to the social and personal factor. It is desirable that social values, including educational values, serve to form a person, increase his value, ensure recognition by pedagogues of the individual factor as the leading subject of educational processes, help to form free and independent thinking, as well as social activity skills. Therefore, the need to educate a competent person and a qualified specialist to adulthood acquires a more relevant meaning and essence in the current conditions where new social relations are being developed. "We need to raise free, well-rounded people who recognize their rights, rely on their own strength and capabilities, who have an independent attitude to the events happening around them, who at the same time build their personal interests in harmony with the interests of the country and the people."

And it depends on educational values. That's why he emphasizes the relevance of the topic chosen by teaching young people educational values. It is necessary to solve the following tasks based on the scientific and practical aspects of teaching the students that educational values occupy an important place in educational processes:

- providing information about educational values to students during education and training processes;
- justifying the methodology of instilling educational values into the minds of students in primary education;
- it is necessary to effectively use modern pedagogical technology in the application of educational values in the educational process.

When studying national values, it is necessary to form a sequence of concepts of national idea, national consciousness, and national pride in students. Because a person without national pride will never appreciate the wealth of the Motherland, he will not even think of preserving it, that is, he will not be able to become a patriotic, selfless person.

Values are divided into several types according to their nature. In particular, a person and his life are considered the highest value. It is absurd to talk about the value of something in the absence of a person. Therefore, honoring the dignity of a person, improving his life, developing his knowledge and cultural level, maintaining his health, and protecting his life are the main directions of our state's policy.

All fundamental changes and reforms taking place in our society are aimed at ensuring that people's lives are full, rich and beautiful, that people feel truly free, that they are the owners of the results of their work, their destiny, and their country.

Based on this, we try to give an opinion on the basis of a comprehensive approach to values. Dignity - a person's place in society, reputation - attention, respect, prestige. Value is a concept that shows the positive or negative importance of surrounding things, a person for society, and is a moral principle.

Value includes universal human values - certain moral standards, advanced, progressive cultural heritage. Values are divided into material, social, political, spiritual values and positive and negative values. Values are not only valuable for the past, but they are also valuable for the development of the future.

The value types are:

- natural values;
- material values;
- moral values;
- aesthetic values;
- national values;
- universal human values.

Natural values - resources necessary for human existence and development, i.e. land and underground resources, water, air, forests, plants, animals world and others.

Material values are things (objects, items) that are valuable in satisfying people's material needs. They are: means of production and weapons, objects of work, material goods, items used in the process of human activity.

Spiritual values are a complex of political, legal, artistic, religious, aesthetic, philosophical, moral, educational, cultural values.

Aesthetic values are all beauties of both form and content (all natural and social beauties).

National values are a set of material and spiritual assets of certain peoples and nations that have developed on the basis of long historical periods and have a certain form and content.
